```
Develop a function to monitor temperature & provide alert
import random
def monitor_temperature(temp):
    if temp < 0:
        return "Alert: Temperature is too low!"
    elif temp > 40:
        return "Alert: Temperature is too high!"
    else:
        return "Temperature is normal."

temperature = random.randint(-50, 100) print(f"Random temperature: {temperature}") print(monitor_temperature(temperature))
```

```
Random temperature: 84
Alert: Temperature is too high!
```